

This started with Janet Jackson on television. TV has become worse and you seem to be focussing on morning radio. Janet was a suprise but we know what we are listening to on the radio when listening to the same show every day and can change the tuner if we are offended. I think you need to place the emphasis on tv in prime time.